

Weddings

A full-page photograph of a wedding couple standing in the ornate doorway of Two Temple Place. The bride is wearing a white gown and the groom is in a black tuxedo. They are holding hands and looking at each other. The entrance is framed by a large stone archway and flanked by two massive, overflowing floral arrangements in classical urns. The building's facade is made of light-colored stone with Gothic-style windows. Two green lanterns are visible on the sides. The overall atmosphere is romantic and elegant.

01 About Two Temple Place

Exclusively yours for the most memorable day of your life.

Two Temple Place is a hidden gem of Victorian architecture and design, and one of London's best-kept secrets. Commissioned by William Waldorf Astor for his London office and pied-a-terre in 1895, this fully-licensed, riverside mansion is now one of London's most intriguing and elegant wedding venues.

Say 'I do' in one of our three licensed ceremony rooms and enjoy every aspect of your big day, from ceremony to wedding breakfast and dancing all under one roof.

Sip champagne in Astor's private Library; surprise your guests with a journey through our secret door; dine in splendour in the majestic Great Hall or dance the night away in the grand Lower Gallery. With a beautiful garden forecourt which acts as a suntrap in the summer months for celebratory drinks and canapés, whatever the time of year Two Temple Place is endlessly flexible and packed with individual charm and character.

Let our dedicated Events team and our experienced approved suppliers guide you through every aspect of the planning process, ensuring an unforgettable day for you and your guests.

All funds generated from the hire of Two Temple Place support the philanthropic mission of The Bulldog Trust, registered charity 1123081.

02 Lower Gallery

Walk down the aisle in the Lower Gallery with its high ceilings and stunning wood panelling as sunlight streams through the large ornate windows.

Alternatively with easy access to both East and West of London, the Lower Gallery provides the perfect setting for that first glass of celebratory bubbles after a Church or registry office ceremony. Situated on the ground floor it can also be used in conjunction with the courtyard to create a versatile summer reception space.

Whilst you and your guests explore the secrets on the first floor of the house, let our trusted suppliers transform the Lower Gallery into a stunning and vibrant party space. Dance the night away to a live band or DJ (late night extensions are available until 4am on request).

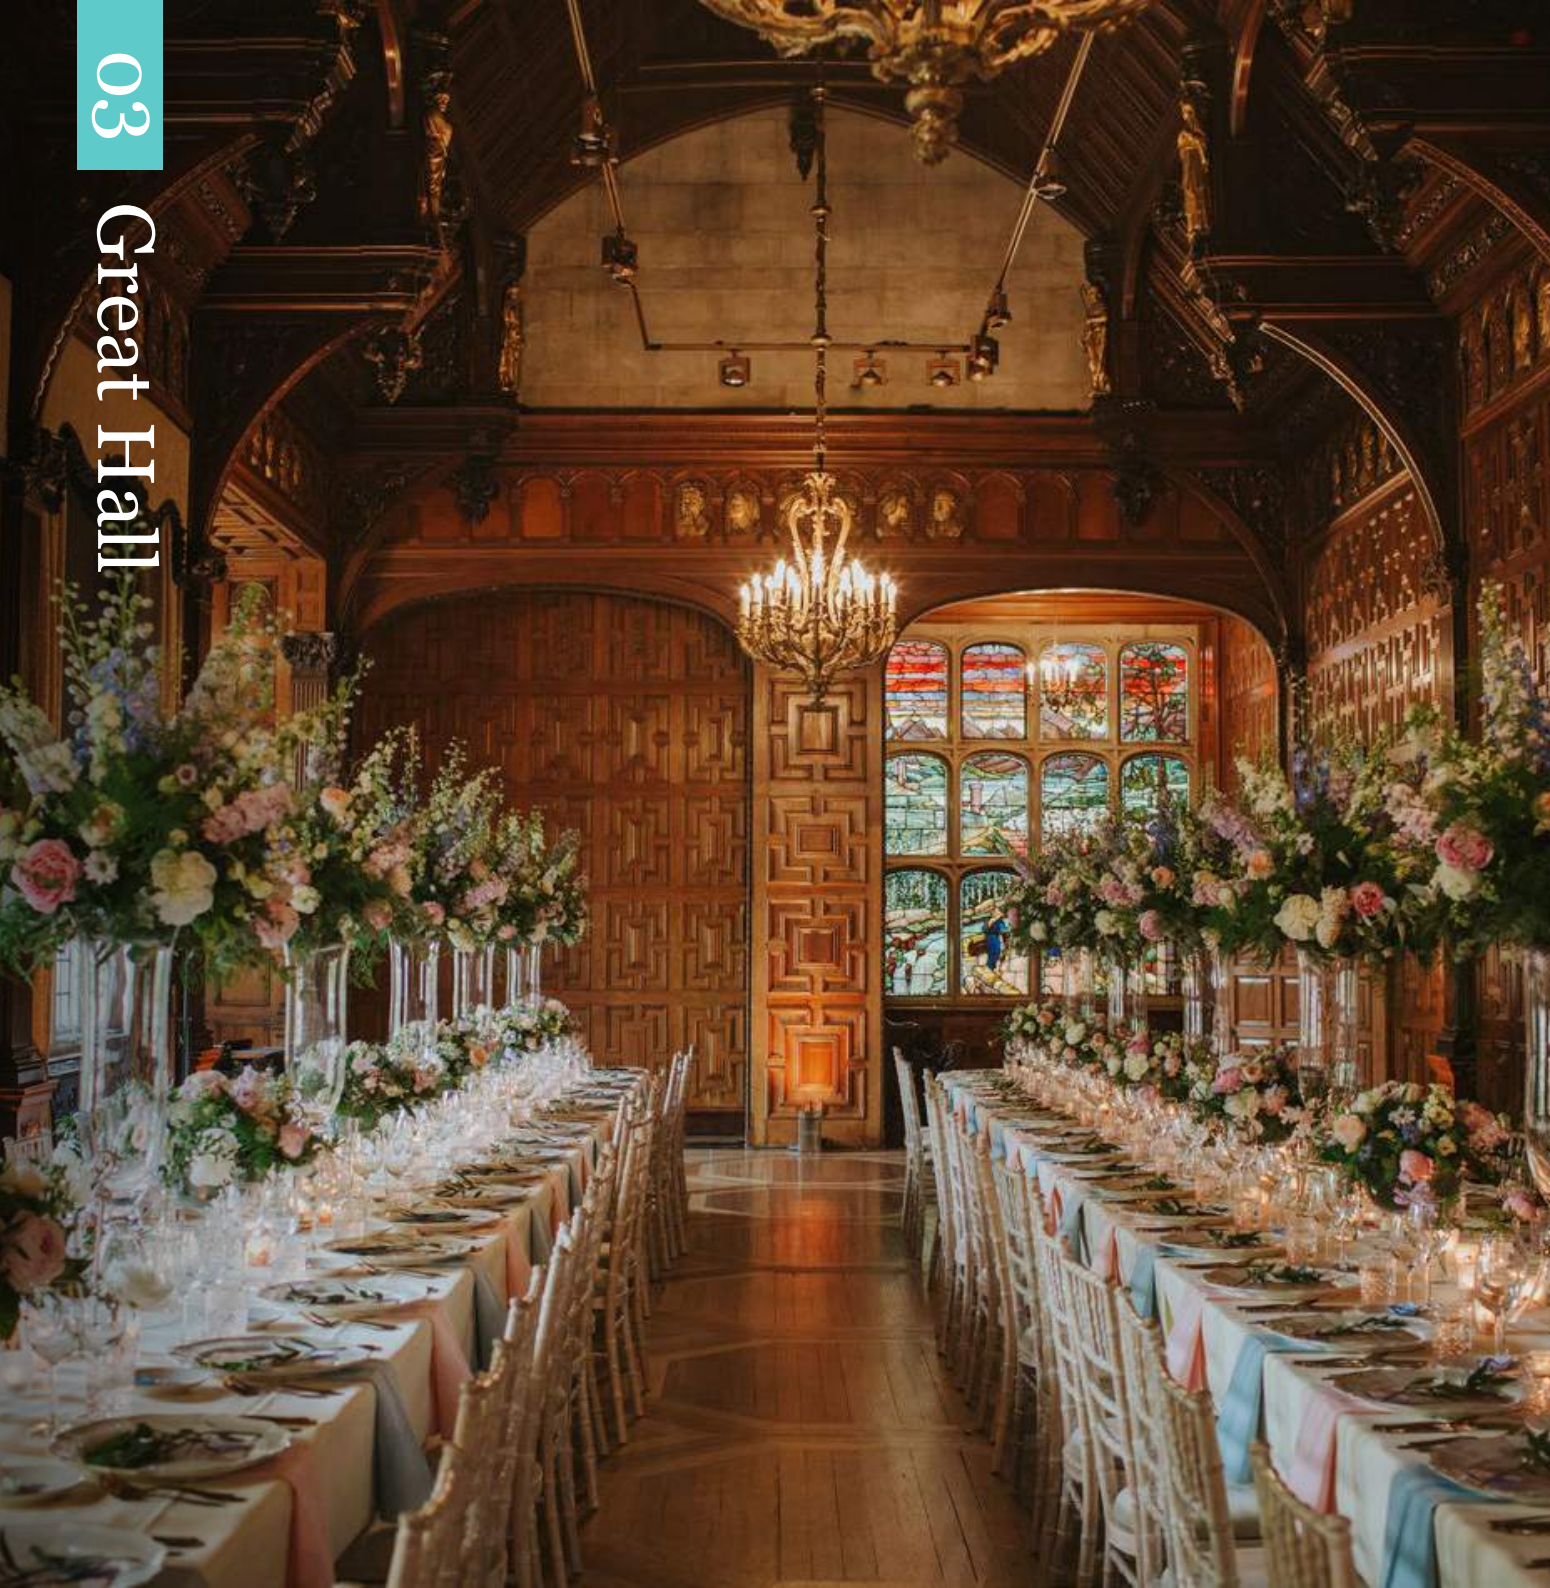

Capacity:

Reception: 150

Ceremony: 120

03 Great Hall

The Great Hall with its majestic hammer beam ceiling and spectacular stained glass windows provides an exquisite setting for an elegant and atmospheric wedding ceremony or celebratory dinner.

Become a part of the history of this unique and beautiful house, by taking your vows alongside the nine ladies of Arthurian legend and a host of other historical and romantic figures carved, gilded and modelled into this breath-taking space by the finest Victorian craftsmen.

This grand, opulent but also intimate room provides an exceptional backdrop for elegant wedding receptions and dinners, complete with views of the London riverside skyline.

Capacity:

Wedding Breakfast: 120

Ceremony: 120

04 Upper Gallery

The beautiful mahogany staircase at Two Temple Place is adorned with carvings of celebrated literary figures, and flooded with natural daylight from the stunning stained glass canopy overhead.

Invite your guests on a journey into Astor's world of wonder via this magnificent staircase. Cross the unique marble floor inset with onyx and jasper and move up into the Upper Gallery of the house, where your guests will marvel at this 'perfect gem' of late Victorian architecture.

The staircase lends itself perfectly to any wedding season, looking equally impressive dressed in garlands of spring or summer florals, adorned with pumpkins, apples and russet hues, or wrapped in holly and mistletoe to complement the stunning fireplace fire.

Capacity:

Standing reception: 40

05 Library

William Waldorf Astor's former private Library is a hidden retreat for couples looking for a small and intimate wedding ceremony.

Overlooking the beautiful grounds of Middle Temple, the Library also provides the perfect setting for an after dinner bar, complete with a secret door in the satinwood panelling that leads into the Great Hall. Designed for William Astor as a wholly private space in which to enjoy the treasures of his collections, the exceptionally delicate, low relief carving and recently revealed mahogany floor ensure the room retains the atmosphere of an inner sanctum.
