

PAPER WEAVING

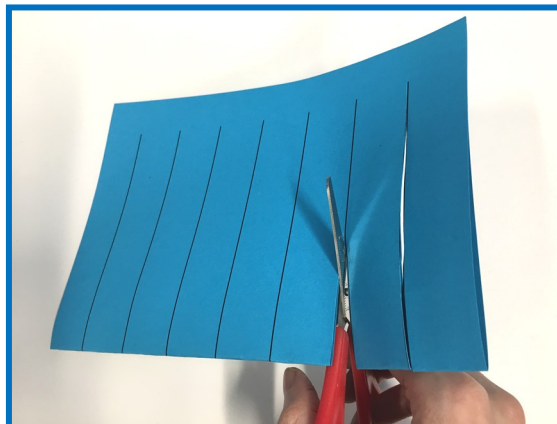

You will need:

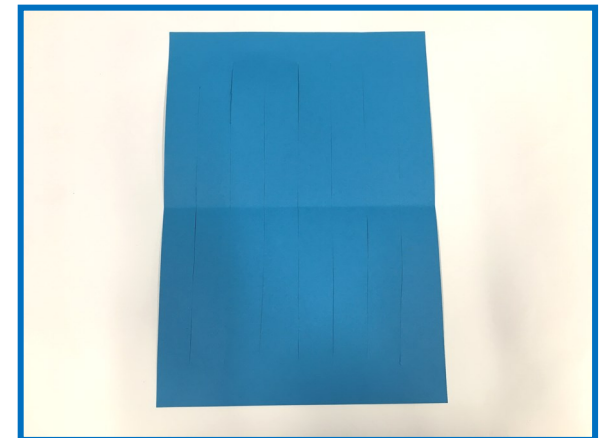

- Lined card/paper (use our template or draw your own)
- Variety of different paper strips
- Scissors
- Glue stick

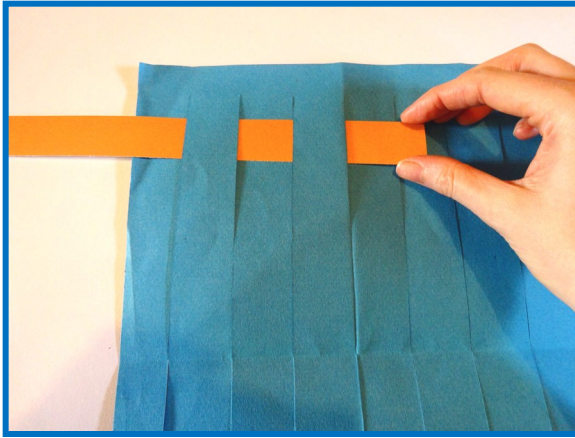

1. Fold your lined card or paper in half so that the lines are on the outside. If you can't print out the lined template, then draw equally spaced lines on a piece of paper.

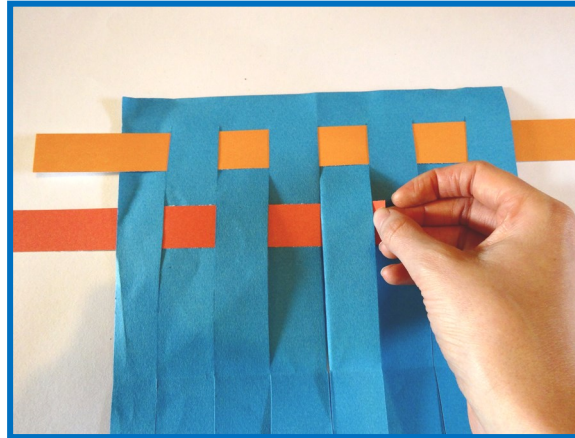

2. Starting at the fold, cut along the lines. Be careful not to cut all the way to the end of the paper - you need to leave a gap of around 2.5cm at the edge.

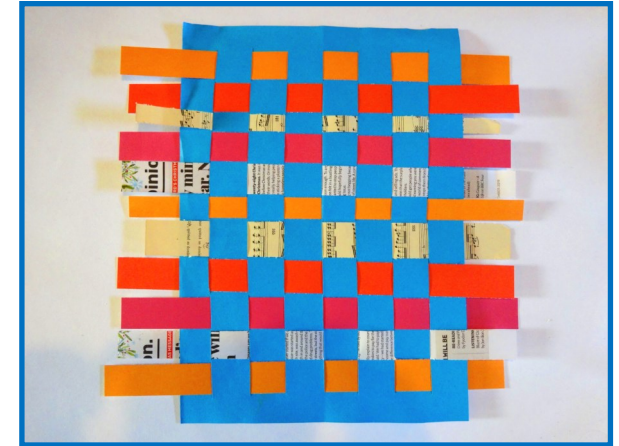

3. When you unfold your paper you should have lots of slits for weaving through. It doesn't matter if these aren't exactly equal.

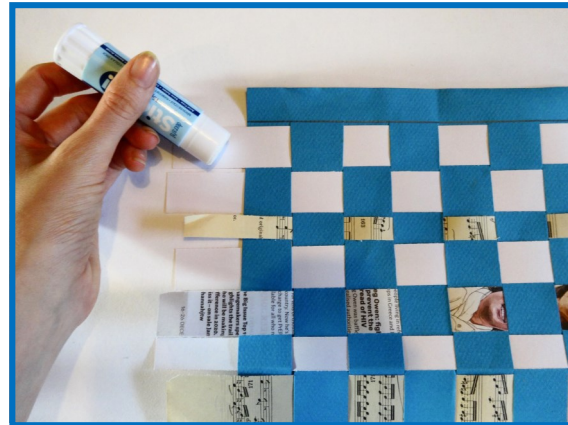

4. Take your first strip of paper and weave it through the slits by putting it over one and under the next. Continue this until your strip is woven all the way across the paper.

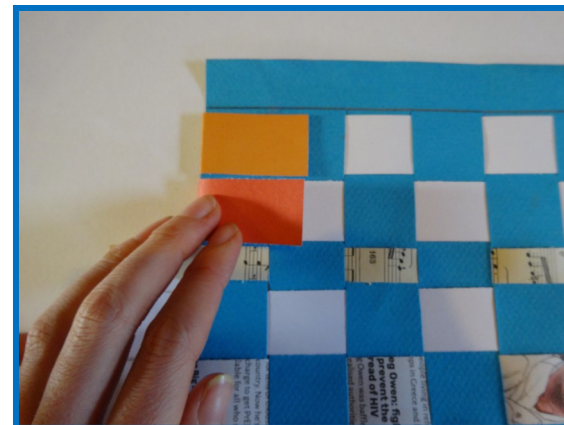

5. Move the woven strip to the top and then move to the next strip. Weave it in a opposite pattern to the first i.e if your first strip went over and under the slits, the second strip should go under and over the slits.

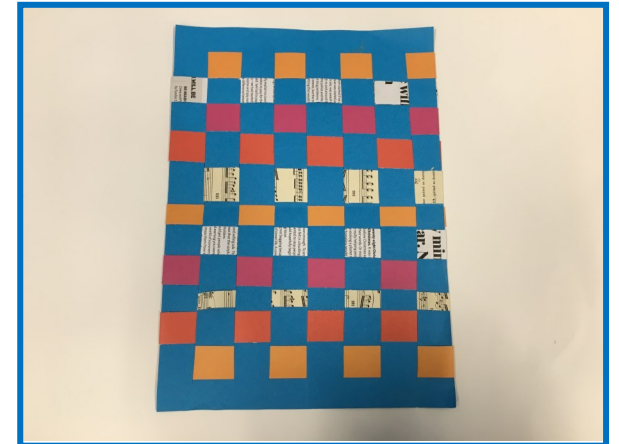

6. Continue weaving your paper strips in an alternating pattern until you have woven your entire page.

7. Carefully flip your paper so that the back is now facing up. Apply glue at the ends of each paper strip.

8. Fold the ends of each strip over and press down to glue in place.

9. Turn over - you now have your very own woven paper!
