RECEPTIONS

There are multiple options for hosting a drinks reception at Two Temple Place.

You will welcome your guests through the intimate courtyard and up the grand mahogany staircase adorned with the characters from The Three Musketeers (Lord Astor's favourite novel). They will marvel at the spectacular stained-glass ceiling, ebony columns and Shakespeare friezes that crown the atrium.

Once upstairs, larger groups in the Great Hall will be surrounded by gilded historical and literary characters and stunning stained-glass windows under the majestic hammer-beam roof.

If you are a smaller group, we would recommend using William Waldorf Astor's private Library with its extraordinary satinwood panelling and mahogany floor as a wonderfully intimate space for an evening reception.

You and your guests really can dance the night away in the Lower Gallery, with a late licence until 4am available on request.
